

Women in Technology Luncheon

Want to hear from Women working at Amazon.com, the Institute for Systems Biology and Google?

What: Join us for a fun luncheon with four women working in bioengineering research, software development and design. Hear about their experience in these exciting fields.

When: Friday, December 13th Noon to 1:30pm – Lunch through 5th Period

Where: Computer Science room 115a

Lunch: Free Pizza will be provided by Amazon.com

To Attend:

Enter out your details in the form below and get Permission from your 5th Period teacher to be excused on Friday, December 13th for 5th Period (this is required to attend) by having them respond and sign the from below. Turn in the completed form to Mr. Bergquist in room 115a, the computer science Lab. Space is limited, so please get your forms turned in early to insure a place.

You can learn more about IGNITE at: www.ignite-us.org

There are more details about Computer Science classes at Garfield at: www.garfieldcs.com

Women in Technology Luncheon - Permission to Participate Form

Date: Friday, December 13th, 2013 Lunch through 5th Period (noon to 1:30pm)

Student's full Name: _____

5th Period Teacher's Name: _____

5th Period class: _____

All Homework Turned in: __Yes / __ No. Satisfactory Class Participation: __Yes / __ No. Cooperative Attitude: __Yes / __ No.

5th Period Teacher's Signature: _____

This student will miss your full 5th Period class on Friday, December 13th and be responsible for making up class work accordingly. 5th Period teacher's permission is required for their attendance of this event and student will be in room 115a for its entirety. Space is limited. Contact Mr. Bergquist if you have any questions.

RETURN SIGNED FORM TO: Mr. Bergquist in room 115a (206-252-2424, embergquist@seattleschools.org)